GILT WOOD CONSOLE TABLE IN THE MANNER OF ROBERT ADAM

H: 37 in / 94 cm | W: 72 in / 183 cm | D: 21 in / 53.5 cm

Constructed in gilt wood, with painted accents; the inverted Carrara marble top having outswept sides, and a thumbnail moulded edge, supported by four tapering and waisted legs having Ionic capitals, and recessed panels dressed with pendant Bellflowers, and terminating in spade feet; over, tablets having a Greek key background are adorned with lion masks within cartouches, holding ribbands; betwixt, the apron has a running swag motif; below, a gilt wood panel frames the mirrored back.

England, Circa 1860
