A Regency Rosewood Secrétaire Bookcase
By Wilton & Co. of London

Employing figured rosewood, the upper section with a moulded cornice above a pair of glazed doors with gilt surrounds, enclosing three adjustable shelves; the lower section fitted as a secrétaire, the fall-front mimicking two drawers with oval paterae handles, opening to reveal a finely fitted interior of small drawers and pigeonholes with a green leather writing surface; below, a pair of doors conceals an arrangement of six drawers with brass pulls. The whole raised on a plinth base with rounded corners. Stamped Wilton & Co.
English, circa 1815
