A Regency Mahogany Four Door Bookcase

Constructed from a striking flamed mahogany, with applied patinated carving and bronze mounts throughout; the central scrolled pediment atop with a radiating acroterion flanked by rosettes above a tripartite stepped frieze decorated with Victory laurels, the central pair of glazed doors with lozenge astragal mullions flanked by a single glazed door to either side with corresponding radiating astragals, each separated by fluted pilasters, enclosing an adjustable shelved interior; the lower register of conforming quadripartite division below a crisp patinated water leaf moulding, the square glazed doors with conforming cross and lozenge astragal mullions, dwarf pilasters, and each enclosing a single adjustable shelf. The locks stamped 'J. Bramah / 14 Piccadilly.'

English, circa 1815
