A Lifesize Orientalist Sculpture
Attributed to Louis Hottot

Of spectacular scale, constructed from spelter and on a bronze-mounted veneered plinth, the striking orientalist figure of a woman dressed in Arabian fashion, her flowing garb and headdress rendered with billowing folds, with hoop earrings and a necklace retaining col-painted polychrome details, the figure perched on the edge of a small table as she holds a feather fan in her right hand, a monumental twin-handled vase towering next to her with exquisite decoration on the surface of geometric motifs and calligraphy.
