A Good Giltwood Conversation Settee
in the Louis XVI Manner

Rising from cannellure and collared toupie feet, the frame well carved with Vitruvian scrolls and overlaid demi lune plates issuing from a central design of a bound quiver, capped with a blue and white jasper elliptical porcelain plaque in the Wedgwood manner, the serpentine back and incurving ends adorned with garlands of roses and ribbands.

French, circa 1870
