A Magnificent Napoleon III Ormolu Clock Set

By Denière of Paris

A finely modelled, cast and hand-chased bronze three-piece clock set designed in the Louis XV rococo style, all with original fire gilded finish, the composition organised around a central clock with Bacchanalian theme celebrating the God of Wine, with a central reclining female figure holding a wine goblet aloft, surrounded by animated putti and trailing grapevine, the enamel circular dial fitted in the case, denoting the hours in Latin numerals and minutes in Arabic numerals within the chapter ring. The pair of candelabra repeating the Bacchanalian theme with scrolling bases covered in grapevine surmounted by a putto carrying the curved candlearms each holding nine lights. The dial signed Deniere, A Paris.
