A Pair of Ormolu-Mounted Bedside Commodes

By Fernand Kohl of Paris

Constructed from mahogany and having their original breccia marble tops, the bombe bedside cabinets dressed with foliate ormolu mounts to the corners and a central gilt bronze scallop shell and foliate cartouche to the hinged door, opening to reveal a marble-lined interior, with a frieze drawer above; the cabriole legs terminating in foliate cast sabots. Stamped 'Kohl.'

French, circa 1890
