

A MOTHER-OF-PEARL & IVORY INLAID
ROSEWOOD VITRINE CABINET

Dimensions: H: 83 in / 211 cm | W: 30 in / 75 cm | D: 17.5 in / 44 cm

8287

Original Price: £14,500 | Special Offer: £6,500

Currently in unrestored original condition, please contact us for further information.

A Mother-of-Pearl & Ivory Inlaid
Rosewood Vitrine Cabinet

Constructed from rosewood veneers and incorporating beveled mirror glass as well as ivory, abalone, mother-of-pearl & pewter inlays; the cabinet rising from oblate bun feet supporting the plinth base below the panelled single door enclosing a double shelved interior and decorated with a central dragon shown in profile surrounded by foliate inlay spandrels and twin-turned columns of conforming inlay; rising above, the frieze incorporating horned masks and a single lockable drawer with floral ribbon-tied swags and supporting the mirror-backed arcade, the upper register having a single arched mirror flanked by turned column supporting the ogee moulded cornice and baluster

Butchoff Antiques, 154 Kensington Church Street, London, W8 4BN
T: 00 44 (0) 20 7221 8174 info@butchoff.com www.butchoff.com carved three-quarter gallery. The drawer bearing the retailer's stamp "W.J. Mansell."

French, Circa 1870

Several documented pieces of furniture bear the label of the Chelsea-based "W.J. Mansell," the variety of which include French, English, and Italian antique furniture. As such, the Fulham Road dealer was a retailer of these pieces, and was respected for the excellence and quality of his collection.